Look at the words in bold. Match them to their definitions below.

Clout Cobain got everyone to pay attention. I wanted to do something that was crazy and thought-provoking.

At first I was like, nah...because it might offend people.

In order to get your point across, you have to do something crazy.

I went to Miami because I got homesick.

Once you make it in your own city, you've got to leave.

That's why I left, that's why I took a hiatus – I had to focus on myself.

I wanted my city to appreciate what I was doing for them.

I had to address things that were bothering me.

I didn't take offense to it but everyone who was around me did.

We're not too different after all.

We started plotting to take over everything.

Take advantage of time. It's not always in your favor.

When you got the news, did you think twice about putting the video up?

It only made me push the narrative, after I've seen a whole bunch of kids...

1. to use something for your good
2. influence/power
3. a short pause/a break
4. to make someone understand what you want to say
5. to give attention to a problem
6. become successful
7. make someone upset or angry
8. to have control over something
9. making people think
10. to promote/to advertise
11. despite earlier problems or doubts
12. to understand how good someone or something is
13. missing home
14. giving you an advantage
15. think carefully about something
16. become upset by something or someone